A Life As Inspiring As It Was Tragic
A Love As Passionate As It Was Timeless
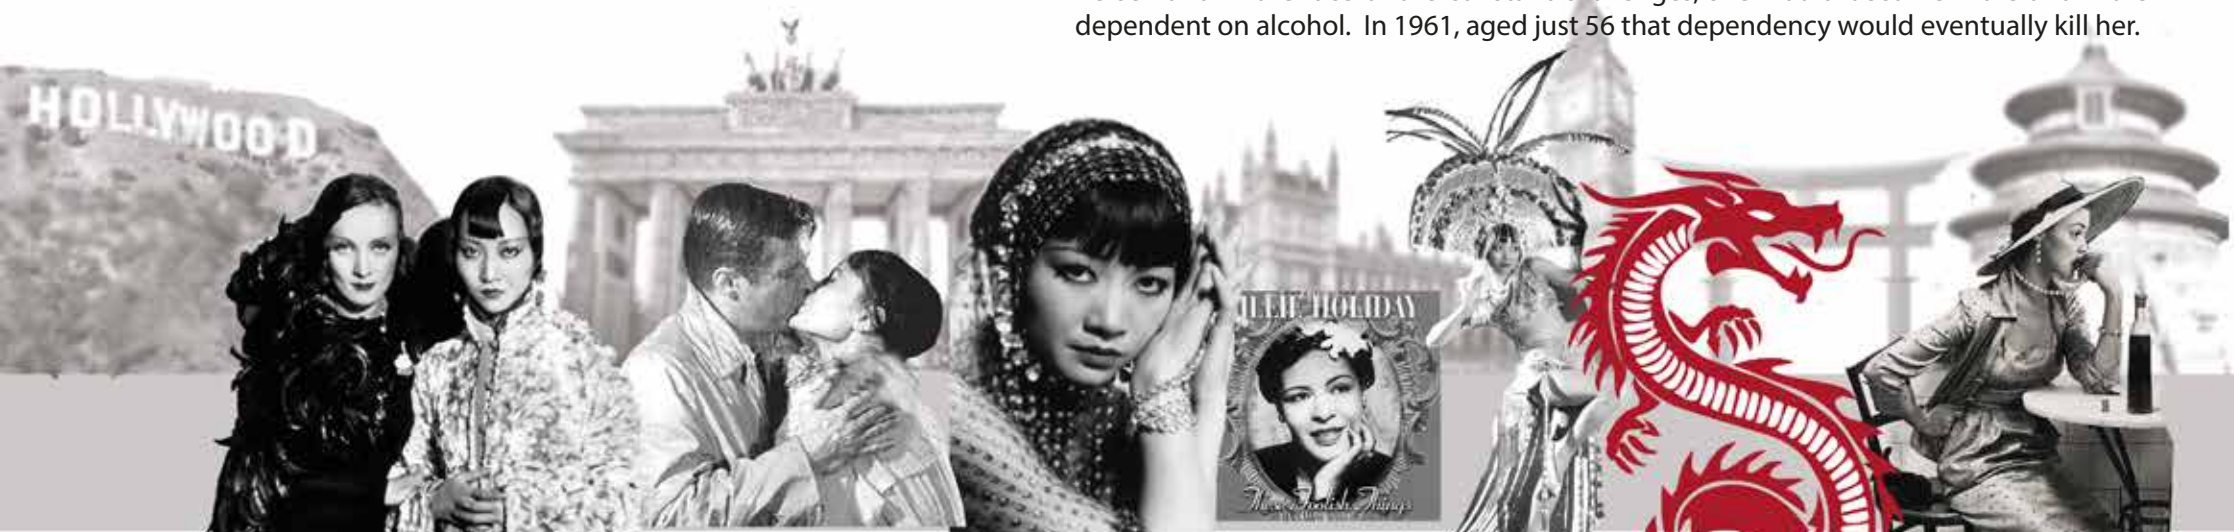

A Loss As Profound As It Was Poetic

Now almost forgotten, Anna May was a Hollywood legend. Brilliant but often conflicted, she was dealing with issues way ahead of her time and challenging convention as part of her every day life. But as bold and confident as she appeared, her constant battle with forces both outside and within, eventually took their toll. Unable to find peace within herself and in the face of the constant challenges, she would become more and more dependent on alcohol. In 1961, aged just 56 that dependency would eventually kill her.

Producer: Gareth Wiley

Gareth Wiley is a two-time Golden Globe Nominee and Best Picture Winner, who has worked with Oscar Winning directors, Alex Gibney and Woody Allen

Gareth has been working as a film producer & executive producer since 2002.

Since then, he has produced independent feature films with budgets totalling over $100 million including four with Woody Allen. Having persuaded the New Yorker to move his 2004 movie to London the collaboration grew until in January 2009 he won a Best Picture Golden Globe for Woody's "Vicky Cristina Barcelona". This was Gareth's second Golden Globe nomination in four years, having been previously nominated in 2006 for his first collaboration with Woody Allen, "Match Point".

For two years, Gareth served as the External Examiner of the MA in Screen Writing at Goldsmiths College in London.

Gareth studied Business with Economics & Law, before starting his working life as a banker in February 1985.
